

Royal Free Music Society Data Protection and Retention Policy

This policy is based on a template designed by Making Music in line with General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR).

Introduction

In order to operate, the Royal Free Music Society (RFMS) needs to gather, store and use certain forms of information about individuals. These can include members, employees, contractors, suppliers, volunteers, audiences and potential audiences, business contacts and other people the group has a relationship with or regularly needs to contact.

This policy explains how this data should be collected, stored and used in order to meet RFMS' data protection standards and comply with the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR).

Why is this policy important?

This policy ensures that the Royal Free Music Society:

- protects the rights of our members, volunteers and supporters
- complies with data protection law and follows good practice
- protects the group from the risks of a data breach

Who and what does this policy apply to?

This policy applies to all those handling data on behalf of the RFMS e.g.:

- Committee members
- Employees and volunteers
- Members
- Contractors/third party suppliers

It applies to all data that the RFMS holds relating to individuals, including:

- Names
- Email addresses
- Postal addresses
- Phone numbers
- Any other personal information held (e.g. financial)

Roles and responsibilities

The RFMS has a nominated Data Protection Officer who is a member of the committee. They, together with the committee as a whole, are responsible for the secure, fair and transparent collection and use of data by the RFMS. Any questions relating to the collection or use of data should be directed to the Data Protection Officer.

Everyone who has access to data as part of the RFMS has a responsibility to ensure that they adhere to this policy.

The RFMS uses third party Data Processors (e.g. Gmail, Dropbox) to process data on its behalf. The RFMS will ensure all Data Processors are compliant with GDPR.

Data protection principles

a) We fairly and lawfully process personal data in a transparent way

The RFMS will only collect data where lawful and where it is necessary for the legitimate purposes of the group.

- A member's name and contact details will be collected when they first join the group, and will be used to contact the member regarding group membership administration and activities. Other data may also subsequently be collected in relation to their membership, including their payment history for 'subs'.
- The name and contact details of volunteers, employees and contractors will be collected when they take up a position, and will be used to contact them regarding group administration related to their role.
- Further information, including personal financial information and criminal records information may also be collected in specific circumstances where lawful and necessary (in order to process payment to the person or in order to carry out a DBS check).
- An individual's name and contact details may be collected when they make a booking for an event. This may be used to contact them about their booking and to allow them entry to the event.
- An individual's name, contact details and other details may be collected at any time (including when booking tickets or at an event), with their consent, in order for the RFMS to communicate with them about and promote group activities. See 'How we get consent' below.

b) We only collect and use personal data for specific, explicit and legitimate purposes and will only use the data for those specified purposes

When collecting data, the RFMS will always provide a clear and specific privacy statement explaining to the subject why the data is required and what it will be used for.

c) We ensure any data collected is relevant and not excessive

The RFMS will not collect or store more data than the minimum information required for its intended purpose. For example, we need to collect email addresses or telephone numbers from members in order to be able to contact them about group administration, but data on their marital status or sexuality will not be collected, since it is unnecessary and excessive for the purposes of group administration.

d) We ensure data is accurate and up-to-date

The RFMS will ask members, volunteers and staff to check and update their data on an annual basis. Any individual will be able to update their data at any point by contacting the Data Protection Officer.

e) We ensure data is not kept longer than necessary

The RFMS will keep records for no longer than is necessary in order to meet the intended use for which it was gathered (unless there is a legal requirement to keep records). The storage and intended use of data will be reviewed in line with the RFMS data retention policy. When the intended use is no longer applicable (e.g. contact details for a member who has left the group), the data will be deleted within a reasonable period.

f) We keep personal data secure

The RFMS will ensure that data held by us is kept secure.

- Electronically-held data will be held within a password-protected and secure environment.
- Passwords for electronic data files will be re-set each time an individual with data access leaves their role/position.
- Physically-held data (e.g. membership forms or email sign-up sheets) will be stored in a locked cupboard.
- Access to data will only be given to relevant trustees/committee members/contractors where it is clearly necessary for the running of the group. The Data Protection Officer will decide in what situations this is applicable and will keep a master list of who has access to data.

g) Transfer to countries outside the EEA

The RFMS will not transfer data to countries outside the European Economic Area (EEA), unless the country has adequate protection for the individual's data privacy rights.

Individual Rights

When the RFMS holds and uses an individual's personal data, that individual has the following rights over that data. The RFMS will ensure its data processes comply with those rights and will make all reasonable efforts to fulfil requests from an individual in relation to those rights.

Individuals' rights

- Right to be informed: whenever the RFMS collects data it will provide a clear and specific privacy statement explaining why it is being collected and how it will be used.
- Right of access: individuals can request to see the data the RFMS holds on them and confirmation of how it is being used. Requests should be made in writing to the Data Protection Officer and will be complied with free of charge and within one month. Where requests are complex or numerous, this may be extended to two months.
- Right to rectification: individuals can request that their data be updated where it is inaccurate or incomplete. The RFMS will request that members, staff and contractors check and update their data on an annual basis. Any requests for data to be updated will be processed within one month.
- Right to object: individuals can object to their data being used for a particular purpose. The RFMS will always provide a way for an individual to withdraw consent for all marketing communications. Where we receive a request to stop using data we will comply unless we have a lawful reason to use the data for legitimate interests or contractual obligation.
- Right to erasure: individuals can request for all data held on them to be deleted. The RFMS data retention policy will ensure data is not held for longer than is reasonably necessary in relation to the purpose it was originally collected. If a request for deletion is made, we will comply with the request unless:
 - There is a lawful reason to keep and use the data for legitimate interests or contractual obligation.
 - There is a legal requirement to keep the data.

- Right to restrict processing: individuals can request that their personal data be 'restricted' – that is, retained and stored but not processed further (e.g. if they have contested the accuracy of any of their data, the RFMS will restrict the data while it is verified).

Though unlikely to apply to the data processed by the RFMS, we will also ensure that rights related to portability and automated decision-making (including profiling) are complied with where appropriate.

Member-to-member contact

We only share members' data with other members with the subject's prior consent.

How we get consent

The RFMS will regularly collect data from consenting supporters for marketing purposes. This includes contacting them to promote performances, updating them about group news, fundraising and other group activities.

When data is collected for this purpose, we will provide:

- A method for users to show their positive and active consent to receive these communications (e.g. a 'tick box')
- A clear and specific explanation of what the data will be used for (e.g. 'Tick this box if you would like the RFMS to send you email updates with details about our forthcoming events, fundraising activities and opportunities to get involved')

Data collected will only ever be used in the way described and consented to (e.g. we will not use email data in order to market third-party products unless this has been explicitly consented to).

Every marketing communication will contain a method through which a recipient can withdraw their consent (e.g. an 'unsubscribe' link in an email). Opt-out requests such as this will be processed within 14 days.

Regular Data Review

A regular review of all data will take place to establish if the RFMS still has good reason to keep and use the data held at the time of the review. As a general rule a data review will be held every two years and no more than 27 calendar months after the last review. The review will be recorded in committee meeting minutes.

Data to be reviewed:

- Data stored electronically (e.g. spreadsheets) on personal devices held by committee members.
- Data stored on third party online services (e.g. Gmail, Dropbox)
- Physical data stored at the homes of committee members

Who the review will be conducted by

The review will be conducted by the Data Protection Officer with other committee members to be decided on at the time of the review.

How data will be deleted

- Physical data will be destroyed safely and securely, including shredding.
- All reasonable and practical efforts will be made to remove data stored digitally.
 - Priority will be given to any instances where data is stored in active lists (e.g. where it could be used) and to sensitive data.
 - Where deleting the data would mean deleting other data that we have a valid lawful reason to keep (e.g. on old emails) then the data may be retained safely and securely but not used.

Criteria

The following criteria will be used to make a decision about what data to keep and what to delete.

Question	Action
	Yes	No
Is the data stored securely?	No action necessary	Update storage protocol in line with Data Protection policy
Does the original reason for having the data still apply?	Continue to use	Delete or remove data
Is the data being used for its original intention?	Continue to use	Either delete/remove or record lawful basis for use and get consent if necessary

Is there a statutory requirement to keep the data?	Keep the data at least until the statutory minimum no longer applies	Delete or remove the data unless we have reason to keep the data under other criteria.
Is the data accurate?	Continue to use	Ask the subject to confirm/update details
Where appropriate do we have consent to use the data. This consent could be implied by previous use and engagement by the individual	Continue to use	Get consent
Can the data be anonymised	Anonymise data	Continue to use

Statutory Requirements

Data stored by the RFMS may be retained based in statutory requirements for storing data other than data protection regulations. This might include but is not limited to:

- Gift Aid declarations records
- Details of payments made and received (e.g. in bank statements and accounting records)
- Trustee meeting minutes
- Contracts and agreements with suppliers/customers
- Insurance details
- Tax and employment records.

Other data retention procedures

Member data

- When a member leaves the RFMS and all administrative tasks relating to their membership have been completed, any potentially sensitive data held on them (this might include bank details or medical data) will be deleted within a reasonable period.
- Unless consent has been given, data will be removed from all email mailing lists.
- All other data will be stored safely and securely and reviewed as part of the next two-year review.

Mailing list data

- If an individual opts out of a mailing list, their data will be removed as soon as is practically possible.

- All other data will be stored safely and securely and reviewed as part of the next two year review

Volunteer and freelancer data

- When a volunteer or freelancer stops working with the RFMS and all administrative tasks relating to their work have been completed, any potentially sensitive data held on them will be deleted – this might include bank details or medical data
- Unless consent has been given data will be removed from all email mailing lists
- All other data will be stored safely and securely and reviewed as part of the next two year review

Other data

- All other data will be included in a regular two-year review.
